

THE OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE SOCIETY OF THE NETHERLANDS

The Royal Archives

THE OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE SOCIETY OF THE NETHERLANDS takes great pleasure in inviting you to a guided tour of the Royal Archives in The Hague

The Royal Collections of the Netherlands include the archives of the House of Orange-Nassau and unique collections of manuscripts and the special cartographic collection. As well as the personal papers of individual members of the houses of Nassau and Orange-Nassau, these include archives of royal estates and former estates in the Netherlands and overseas, those of the Royal Household and some third-party archives. A small part of the Royal Collections of the Netherlands is displayed in the family museum at the Royal House Archive, where the Royal Collections of the Netherlands are based.

The guided tour lasts about 75 minutes.

The Oxford and Cambridge Society of The Netherlands (Vereniging)
Registered Address: Lootsstraat 24/3, 1053 NX Amsterdam
Web : www.oxbridge-nl.com Email : secretary.OCNL@gmail.com

THE OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE SOCIETY OF THE NETHERLANDS

- When? Friday, May 25th, 2018, 13:45
13:30 Meet in front of the entrance to the palace gardens.
13:45 Walk through gardens to Royal Archives
14:00-15:15 Guided tour
- Where? Prinsessewal, Den Haag
<http://www.koninklijkeverzamelingen.nl/en/contact-directions>
- Costs? Free for members who have paid their 2018 annual membership subscription. Maximum 22 participants due to limited space.

Please note that the Royal House Archive is not fully accessible by persons with limited mobility. The Royal House Archive is situated in a restricted area which means that for security reasons, we are required to provide the Royal Netherlands Marechaussee with the names of all members at least five days before the visit. All participants also need to produce a valid identity document upon arrival, and only those who are registered in advance will be admitted.

